CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

Examinations for admission to the College are held for several days before Commencement (June 24—27), and on the first day of the first term. While there may be examinations at any other time, all applicants are urged to present themselves on the days appointed.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are subject to examination in the following books, or their equivalents:

LATIN.—Latin Grammar; Latin Reader; two books of Cæsar's Gallic War; three books of Virgil's Æneid.

GREEK.—Greek Grammar complete; Greek Reader complete, or two books of the Anabasis.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic, complete, including the Metric System; Elementary Algebra (Robinson's, Loomis's, or Olney's); Part I. of Olney's Geometry.

ENGLISH.—English Grammar; Spelling; Modern Geography.

A candidate for an advanced standing, in addition to the above studies, is examined in the various branches to which the class he proposes to enter has attended.

Satisfactory testimonials of good moral character are required, and those coming from other institutions must bring certificates of regular and honorable dismissal.

An accurate and thorough acquaintance with the studies required for admission is indispensable, in order to receive full advantage of the College course. It is found from experience, that students imperfectly prepared for the class they enter, are embarrassed in their future progress, and are seldom able to repair the want of complete preparatory study.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. The classes attend three recitations or lectures a day, except on Wednesday and Saturday, when they usually have but two.

INSTRUCTION AND SUPERVISION.

The instruction in the College is given entirely by Professors, who have had the advantage of enlarged experience in their respective departments. They employ both text-books and lectures, as they find most efficient, or as is rendered necessary by the subject.

The discipline of the Institution is, as far as practicable, parental. The President and Vice-President, under whose immediate supervision the building is placed, exercise a constant guardianship over the whole establishment. In this the other officers also co-operate, and parents at a distance can feel assured that all judicious efforts will be made for the proper government and culture of their sons.

Intellectual and Moral Science.

Much attention is given to Mental Philosophy, Moral Science, and Christian Evidences. In several of these branches the use of text-books is combined with lectures. The aim is to give the student a clear and extensive acquaintance with these important subjects. The lectures embrace an examination of the leading tendencies and questions of modern thought.

Physics and Astronomy.

The study of Physics extends over the second and third sessions of the Junior year. Instruction is given both by lectures and the use of the text-book. Experiments illustrating the principles of this Science are made by means of the Philosophical apparatus in the possession of the College, a large part of which is of the most approved and modern construction.

The Seniors have Astronomy four times a week during the first session of the Collegiate year. Through the liberality of some of the friends of the College, an Observatory has been erected and supplied with the instruments necessary for class-instruction. The students are taught how to use the instruments, and then have the privilege of access to them for any observations they may desire to make. Frequent informal lectures are given to supplement the text-book and bring before the class the latest discoveries and the researches in progress. A course in Meteorology is also given during the last session of the Junior year. The Meteorological apparatus is first-class, having been tested by the officers of the U. S. Signal Service. The text-book is Loomis's Treatise on Meteorology.

Chemistry and Mineralogy.

In the regular course ample time is assigned to Chemistry to attain the aim of the instruction in that science, namely to give the students a practical acquaintance with the science as established by the most recent investigations, and to show the value of its applications and conclusions to the arts and the economy of life. Four hours a week, during the first term of Junior year, are devoted to Inorganic Chemistry. Two hours a week during part of the first term of Senior year, are occupied with Organic Chemistry. Lectures during the second and third terms are delivered on Applied Chemistry.

Mineralogy is taught by having the student make a personal examination of the specimens belonging to the valuable Mineral Collection in the possession of the College. Two hours a week, during part of the first term of Senior year, are devoted to this subject.

Provision is made for Laboratory work, including Qualitative, Quantitative, and Mineral Analysis, and excellent opportunity is offered special students to acquaint themselves more fully, at small expense, with General Chemistry, or to prepare for the study of Medicine or Pharmacy, or for engagement in manufacturing pursuits.

The facilities for instruction, in both class-room and Laboratory, are being constantly augmented.

Physiology, Zoology, Botany, and a more extended course in Geology, complete the usual scientific studies.

Mathematics.

In the course of Mathematics there are four weekly exercises in the Freshman Class, three in the Sophomore Class, and two, during the first and second sessions, in the Junior Class.

The instruction in the Department of Mathematics is conveyed by the constant and systematic study of approved text books, interspersed with familiar lectures; the student being assisted by full and frequent explanations from the Professor, and being constantly subjected to rigid examinations. The progress of every student in each class is also tested by his being required to perform miscellaneous exercises, in which the principles acquired are applied to the solution of particular problems.

Latin Language.

The instruction in this department comprises, in the earlier part of the course, drill in the rudiments of the language, with rigid grammatical analysis. Selections from the classics are translated into English, while a considerable portion of the time is occupied with Arnold's Latin Prose Composition. In connection with the study of Horace, especial attention is given to Latin Prosody, and the Historical and Mythological allusions of the text. In the latter part of the course, the derivation of Latin words and the development of the language from its older forms, is examined. The writing of Latin Essays is a regular exercise of the Junior and Senior Classes.

Greek Language.

The study of the Greek is continued throughout the course with more time devoted to it in the earlier classes. The continental method of pronunciation is adopted, and the written accent observed in reading. Exercises in translating English into Greek, accompanied by writing, and illustrated on the black-board form part of the course. Attention to the Etymology of Words, and comparative Philology, renders the recitations interesting. The Historians, Poets, and Orators of the best age of Grecian literature form the authors in the course.

English Language and Literature.

In this department, during the Freshman year, attention is given chiefly to English History and Rhetoric. The Sophomore year begins with instruction in the elements of Anglo-Saxon Grammar, as a necessary preparation for Etymological study in the text of such authors as Chaucer, Spenser and Bacon. These English classics are studied largely in the same mode as the Greek and the Latin. The Junior year is appropriated mainly to literary analysis and criticism, with Shakespeare and Milton as text-books. The Senior year is devoted to the subjects of Political and Social Science. Besides this there are weekly exercises in each class in Essay-Writing, Declamations, Orations or Debates.

The German Language.

This Modern Language, unsurpassed in its rich stores of literature, science, and theology, is made a part of the regular College course. Opportunities are thus afforded for acquiring a thorough knowledge of the language, as instruction and exercises therein are continued throughout the entire course. During the Junior and Senior years the language is exclusively employed in the class-room.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies are connected with the College, the Philomathæan and the Phrenakosmian. These exert a favorable influence in the intellectual and social culture of their members. The halls occupy the two wings on the fourth story of the College edifice, and are conveniently and handsomely furnished. Their sessions are held every Wednesday afternoon.

Reading rooms are connected with the Societies, containing the prominent daily, weekly and monthly issues of the press.

LIBRARIES.

The College Library, to which all the students have access without charge, contains many valuable works.

By the income of a fund invested for that purpose, annual additions are made of the best publications. Additions to this fund are earnestly solicited.

The Libraries of the Literary Societies also comprise a large number of well selected and standard volumes, to which annual additions are made by appropriations for that purpose. These Libraries are accessible to the members of the Societies, under their respective regulations.

The College Library contains	-	-	-	7,510 vols.
The Phrenakosmian	"	-	-	6,100 "
The Philomathæan	"	-	-	6,200 "
The Linnæan	"	-	-	100 "
The German Society	"	-	-	250 "
Total,	-	-	-	20,160

CABINETS AND MUSEUM.

Few Colleges possess a more complete Mineral Cabinet than the one now belonging to Pennsylvania College. It comprises very complete suites of most minerals. The Botanical Collection is well arranged and contains a full representation of American Flora.

THE McCREARY GYMNASIUM,

affords opportunity for exercise, recreation, and physical culture.

EXAMINATIONS.

There is a Public Examination at the close of each College term. In case of failure to be present at the Examination, from physical inability, or indispensable call of duty, excused by the Faculty, the Examination is held at the discretion of the Faculty, either before the student shall withdraw, or at nine o'clock of the first day of the next term, before entering his name on the roll of his class

A careful record of the attendance, scholarship, and conduct of each student is kept; a copy of which record is transmitted to parents or guardians, at the close of each term.

If a student be absent for some time from the Institution, he must, on re-entering, sustain an examination upon the studies to which his class has been attending during his absence.

The final examination of the Graduating Class is held five weeks before Commencement, from which time they are subject only to such duties as are required for their preparation for Commencement. Those who absent themselves during this interval must return before the delivery of the Baccalaureate Address of the President.

DECREES.

To all members of the Graduating Class, in full and regular standing, a diploma is granted conferring the Academic degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The degree of Master of Arts, in course, is conferred on Bachelors of three or more years' standing; but, by resolution of the Board of Trustees, all applicants for this degree must make application to the Faculty, in writing, at least one week before the Annual Commencement.

The degree of Bachelor of Science is conferred on students who, with adequate previous attainments, pursue a special scientific course and sustain an examination for the degree.

Provision is made for post-graduate degrees upon completing a prescribed course of study, according to the degree for which the student is a candidate, from the following general departments: Moral Philosophy and Evidences of Christianity; Metaphysics; the Physical Sciences; Mathematics and its Applications; the Ancient Classical Languages and Literature; French and German; Political and Social Science; History, Biology, Comparative Philology, Philosophy and Letters. A satisfactory examination on the prescribed course is required, and also a thesis written to be submitted to a committee of the Faculty for their approval.

All members of the Senior Class, upon their entrance on the last session of their course of study, pay an extra fee of Five Dollars to the Treasurer, with their college bills, which is refunded in cases of failure to obtain the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

A number of permanent Scholarships have been endowed by congregations as well as individuals. G. W. Thompson, Esq., of Lancaster, has established a Scholarship for the purpose of giving the benefit of a Collegiate Education to the most successful and indigent pupil, who shall pass through the prescribed course in the High School of Gettysburg.

PRIZES.

THE FRESHMAN PRIZE.—A friend of the College has contributed the sum of five hundred dollars to the Institution, the interest of which is given at the close of the year to that member of the Freshman Class who, upon examination, is found to have attained the highest degree of scholarship in all the regular studies of his class.

The Prize for 1877 (class of '80) was awarded to Daniel Fleisher of Newport, Pa., with honorable mention of William E. Stahler of Norristown, Pa. The former entered College from Bloomfield Academy, the latter from our Preparatory Department.

HASSLER LATIN PRIZE.—Mr. Charles W. Hassler has furnished a fund, the interest of which is annually expended for the purchase of a Gold Medal, to be presented to the student of the Junior Class, who, at the end of the year, shall be the best Latin scholar.

This Medal was awarded last year (Class of '78) to George J. Benner, of Gettysburg, with honorable mention of J. C. Frank Rupp, of Echo, Pa. The former entered College from our Preparatory Department, the latter from Glade Run Academy.

GRAEFF ENGLISH PRIZE.—This Prize was founded by Mr. John E. Graeff, of Philadelphia. The sum of $30 is awarded for the best Essay from the Senior Class, on a subject previously assigned. The decision is made by a Committee appointed by the Professor of English Literature.

The class of '77 wrote on Pope's "Rape of the Lock." The Prize was awarded to George W. Gross of York, Pa., who entered College from the York Academy.

The class of '78 writes on Shakspeare's "Coriolanus." The Committee of award this year consists of FRANK E. BELTZHOVER, Esq.,..... Carlisle, Pa.

PROF. C. J. LITTLE,..... " "

REV. C. S. ALBERT,..... " "

The successful Essay will be read in public, as announced in the Calendar, on Monday evening, March 25th, in the College Church.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

Devotional exercises, conducted by the President or Vice-President, are held daily in the College Chapel. On Sunday morning all the the students are required to attend public worship in the College Church, or in such other place of worship as their parents or guardians may designate by written request. They are required also to attend a Biblical recitation, conducted by the President.

EXPENSES.

The necessary expenses of the Collegiate year, exclusive of books, clothing, furniture, and traveling expenses, are about as follows:

An additional fee of $1.50 per term for contingent expenses is charged to students not rooming in College buildings.

Parents or guardians may entrust funds for students to any member of the Faculty, and they will be applied as may be required.

The Tuition must in all cases be paid in advance. No student will be allowed to recite with his class until he has shown the Professor a receipt from the College Treasurer, or a note, stating that he has made some satisfactory arrangement with the Treasurer.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The Annual Commencement is held on the last Thursday of June. The first term begins ten weeks after the day of Commencement, and continues fifteen weeks; the second term begins two weeks after the close of the first term, and continues twelve weeks; the third term begins one week after the close of the second, and continues twelve weeks, until the day of the Annual Commencement. The Collegiate year is thus divided into three terms, of nearly equal length. The intervening periods of one, two, and ten weeks, are devoted to the vacations.

It is highly important that students be punctual in entering upon their duties at the commencement of each term.

Unexcused absences from recitation are counted as zeros upon the grade.

The attention of parents and guardians is especially called to the fact that absences from recitations, whether at the opening of terms, or at other times, are not excused except for sickness or imperative necessity.

The attention of School-boards and of others desiring teachers, is called to the fact, that it is frequently in the power of the Faculty to recommend suitable names.
